Lake Forest, IL - In-Office Pathology, LLC (IOP) announced today that it has added another histotech consultant to its nationwide group to provide technical services to the IOP client in Geneva, IL. Nic Luna will be assigned the newest physician group in the IOP network for compliance inspections and local troubleshooting. Nic has been a histotechnologist for over 30 years in various local hospitals and is currently working for one of the regional pathology laboratories as the pathology laboratory manager. He resides in Buffalo Grove, IL.

Pat Kalish, IOP's VP of Corporate Communications, commented, "We have experienced professionals like Tiffany to support the markets containing our in-office pathology laboratories. We realize that pathology is practiced at the local level. We added these local experts to support the burgeoning physician in-office pathology laboratory market. We have enlisted Tiffany to help take us to our next fifty (50) pathology laboratory installations."

Ms. Kalish continued, "Our compliant in-office pathology laboratory concept continues to generate interest among large GI, urology, and dermatology and multi-specialty groups nationwide. We have applied our unmatched business experience in pathology to affect a paradigm shift. This is just another piece of our single resource approach for design, implementation, operational and regulatory guidance, compliance and oversight. We are the undisputed market leaders. Specialty groups have responded overwhelmingly to our message. This is still the fastest growing segment in pathology today. We have in-office laboratories coast to coast (in 24 states) and the demand is growing monthly."

Pat commented, "Large multi-specialty practices with their IOP in-pathology laboratory immediately see the benefits of our compliant, turn-key program. IOP laboratory clients have reporting, information management, and compliant billing capabilities plus local technical support. IOP specialty groups practice at a high standard of patient care and are more productive. They have on-site pathology consultations for clinicians and patients which is not the present state of affairs in pathology today."

IOP guides specialty physicians in establishing their own compliant in-office pathology laboratories. They are the recognized market leaders for in-office pathology laboratories with installations coast to coast.
